

Building a national picture of implementation of the Standards

2014 Case Studies Lessons from Practice

Case Studies aim to understand and showcase successful implementation practices of the Standards in educational settings across Australia and shape national implementation.

Who can participate?

- All schools/educational facilities and organisations that are implementing the Australian Professional Standards for Teachers
- Participate as an Individual Site or Consortium
- Example sites: schools, early childhood settings, educational facilities, education departments/offices, teacher regulatory authorities, higher education institutions, principal, professional and parent associations, unions, professional learning providers.

The Case Studies, as a component of the Evaluation, is a partnership with AITSL and the Evaluation Team from The University of Melbourne including leaders in the field Assoc. Prof Janet Clinton, Prof John Hattie, Prof Stephen Dinham, Prof Robert Lingard, Dr Amy Gullickson, Dr Ghislain Arbour, Dr Glenn Savage and other members of the team.

What are the benefits of participation?

You will play a crucial role in informing the implementation of the Standards and help drive teacher quality reform.

Explore and understand successful implementation of the Standards in diverse settings

Investigate practices that support and hinder implementation

Inform and shape national implementation

Showcase and share effective and innovative practices

Contribute to the development of support materials

What will the Case Studies involve?

Duration: approx. 2 days onsite

When: May to September 2014

Activities: interviews, focus groups, exploration of relevant documents and possibly observations of practice

How do I register interest?

Expression of Interest Open: 31 March – 9 May 2014

Application Pack and EOI available here:

www.teacherstandards.aitsl.edu.au/CaseStudies

For further information or enquiries:

AITSL www.teacherstandards.aitsl.edu.au/CaseStudies or APSTevaluation@aitsl.edu.au

The University of Melbourne http://education.unimelb.edu.au/news_and_activities/projects/EAPST#get-involved or apst-evaluation@unimelb.edu.au

