

THE NATIONAL SURVEY FACTSHEET

What is 'the Evaluation'?

The Australian Institute of Teaching and School Leadership (AITSL) has engaged the University of Melbourne and our partner, the Australian College of Educators, to design, develop and deliver a process that impacts the Evaluation of the implementation of the Australian Professional Standards for Teachers (the Standards; formerly known as the National Professional Standards for Teachers). The Evaluation is planned to conclude in December 2015.

The Centre for Program Evaluation at the Melbourne Graduate School of Education (MGSE) and its partner the Australian College of Educators (ACE) is undertaking the Evaluation with AITSL. This project is funded by the Australian Institute for Teaching and School Leadership Limited (AITSL), with funding provided by the Australian Government.

Why are we conducting a National Survey?

The National Survey will provide the Evaluation team with information about how the Standards are being used at a school-level. Other Evaluation activities are also being conducted to obtain information from other levels of the education system.

What are we interested in?

The Evaluation team is interested in collecting data on the knowledge, attitudes, use, and perceived impact of the Standards in Australian schools. Implementation of new education policies is very complex. The data collected will enable the Evaluation team to build a base-line of how the Standards are being implemented and used by teachers and school-leaders across Australia.

Who can complete the survey?

We are inviting ALL teachers, school leaders, teacher educators and pre-service teachers to participate in the Evaluation by completing the National Survey. If you use the Standards in your daily practice we would like to hear from you.

What will it ask?

The National Survey will ask you demographic questions, for example, 'What is your role at your school?' and 'How long you have worked in the profession?' It will also ask you questions which will collect information on the implementation of the Standards in your school, how they are perceived, and what could be done to better support you in your use of the Standards.

What types of questions are there?

There will be scaled questions which will ask you to rate your level of agreement with a series of statements about the Standards. There will also be open-ended questions which will give you space to write a response or comment. There will also be an opportunity for you to provide further comments about anything you would like to share with the Evaluation team.

Who will see my responses?

The National Survey is anonymous. Only the Evaluation team at the University of Melbourne will have access to your responses. The demographic information provided will only be used by the Evaluation team to identify the frequency of responses by jurisdiction, and the groups of individuals who are completing the survey. No individual information will be used in reporting.

What happens to the data?

Your responses will be stored on a password-protected hard drive on a secure level at the Melbourne Graduate School of Education. The data will be kept for five years from the completion of the Evaluation before being destroyed. This complies with the University's research ethics requirements.

Where do I go for more information?

Additional information about the Evaluation is available on both The University of Melbourne and the AITSL websites. The links to these sites are below:

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

1. Can I answer some questions and come back and finish the survey later?

Yes you can. When you click on the link the second time the survey will automatically jump to the next question you were up to.

2. Why can't I move on to the next question in the survey?

Some questions on the survey are mandatory. This means you cannot proceed to the next question until you have provided a response.

3. I can't access the survey?

The link may be broken, or you may have tried to access the survey too many times. Please contact the University of Melbourne Evaluation team at apst-evaluation@unimelb.edu.au.

4. Can I complete the survey with my colleagues?

No, the survey has been designed to collect individual responses. Answering the questions with your colleagues will not provide accurate data for analysis.

5. Do I have to complete the survey?

No, the National Survey is voluntary. However, by providing the Evaluation team with responses you will support us to conduct an accurate Evaluation.

6. My friend is also a teacher but does not know about the survey. Can I send the link on to them?

Yes, we want to receive as many responses to the survey as possible. If you know others who fulfil the criteria for completing the survey please feel free to spread the word.

7. Will anyone else at my school be able to see my responses?

No, only the Evaluation team at the University of Melbourne will have access to the answers you provide.

8. Has the University of Melbourne received ethics approval from a Human Research Ethics Committee to complete this Evaluation?

Yes, Ethics ID: 1339295. If, at any stage, you have concerns about the conduct of the Evaluation please contact the Executive Officer, Human Research Ethics, The University of Melbourne on 03 8344 2073 or by fax to 03 9347 6739.
